

Refunds

Every new premium member will have a grace (free) period of thirty (30) days to evaluate the Service for its validity. During that period, a new member can cancel membership without any financial obligation. After the grace period ends, and the member's credit card is charged there will be no refund given for any reason, even in the event when a member's membership is terminated by himself or FilmHobo. All sales are final, and failure to use the Service shall not entitle the account holders to any refunds.
